

DONATE TODAY

The Need:

To attend high school each year, Thai children require approximately US$200 to cover the cost of books, uniforms, transportation, insurance, computer training, and meals.

The cost of these essential items can easily account for 25% to 50% of the annual income of poor, rural families. Without philanthropic support many students prematurely leave school before graduation to help support their families.

Inevitably, many students find themselves on the streets of Bangkok. Foundation sponsorships enable students to continue in school, thereby helping them secure their own and their families' future.

A small amount can make a huge difference in a child's future:

A donation of only $100.00 supports a poor student in High School for 6 months. Just $675.00 sponsors an outstanding student in University for a year. Help us support these worthy students and give them a chance to succeed. You can sponsor an individual student and we will provide you regular news and photos of your student.

Note all our programs and students are managed and monitored closely by our Board Members in Thailand.

You can make a donation in one of two ways:
